The most endangered bird in the world is the kakapo. A native to New Zealand, it's also called the owl parrot. It's also a type of flightless bird. There are only 201 kakapos left alive today, but New Zealand is putting in a lot of effort to help recover the population.

Most followers on Instagram for a Cat

According to the Guiness Book of World Records, the most followers on Instagram for a cat is 4,361,519, and was achieved by the account "nala_cat", as verified on 13 May 2020. Adopted by her owner, Varisiri (Pookie) Methachittiphan (USA), from a shelter, the Siamese/tabby mix has captivated the web with her wide, blue eyes, cute headgear and penchant for curling up in cardboard boxes.

FUN TRIVIA

*Cat "kneading" behavior is left over from kittenhood when they kneaded their mother's belly for milk. The marching or kneading means that the cat is happy.

*The first dog chapel was established in 2001. It was built in St. Johnsbury, Vermont, by Stephan Huneck, a children's book author whose five dogs helped him recuperate from a serious illness.

*In The Guiness Book of World records, the heaviest ball of dog hair weighed 91.172 kg (201 lb) and was created by Texas Hearing and Service Dogs (USA), in Austin, Texas, on 7 April 2012.

*The largest dog photo shoot consists of 710 dogs, and was achieved by Nestlé Purina PetCare (Russia) in Moscow, Russia, on 14 September 2019. The dogs were generally small and medium-sized.

*Contrary to common beliefs, pigs are not only one of the smartest farm animals, but they are also actually one of the most intelligent animals in the animal kingdom. They have the intelligence of a 3-year old child and are faster learners than dogs and primates. It's even a popular household pet.

*Cats have better memories than dogs. Tests conducted by the University of Michigan concluded that while a dog's memory lasts no more than 5 minutes, a cat's can last as long as 16 hours—exceeding even that of monkeys and orangutans.

*Way back when, Burmese cats were reputed to have had their own servants. Once owned by Burmese aristocracy and priests, the Burmese cats were so highly valued that it was illegal to sell them.

Equine Expert

A man is driving his car along a lonely country road when suddenly it grinds to a halt. The driver tries to restart it but to no avail. So he gets out and opens the hood and starts fiddling with the plugs. Suddenly he hears a voice. "The left hand carburetor is blocked, why don't you drain it and the muck should come out". He turns round and can see no one, so he shrugs and goes back to what he was doing.
"Drain the muck out of the left hand carburetor", says the voice again, and when he turns round all he can see is a black horse with its head over the hedge looking at him. Again the voice tells him what to do and he suddenly realizes that the horse is giving him instructions. Too shocked to argue, he does as he's told, starts the car and sure enough it works. He drives down to the nearest pub and, rushing in like a madman, has a stiff drink. Then he says to the barman, "My car broke down up there and a horse told me how to repair it".
The barman looks at him and says, "Was it a black one?"
"Yes." replied the man,
"I thought so, because the white one knows nothing about cars."

PAW-SCOPES

DOGS:
Holidays over with, its time to get back on track with normal walks and feeding times! This month your dog will demonstrate the occasional stubborn and strong-willed attitude, but it won't last long. They'll be back on your lap again with lots of hugs & kisses.

CATS:
Peace and quiet has returned and life as CAT knows it is back to relevant normalcy. If there's more than one cat in the family, the oldest feline will not be happy if not given the position as top cat and never forget to say hello when you get home or good bye when you leave.

The Turnspit Dog (now extinct)

The Turnspit Dog was a short-legged, long-bodied dog bred to run on a wheel, called a turnspit or dog wheel, to turn meat so that it would cook evenly.
The dogs were also taken to church to serve as foot warmers. One story says that during service at a church in Bath, the Bishop of Gloucester gave a sermon and uttered the line "It was then that Ezekiel saw the wheel…". At the mention of the word "wheel" several turnspit dogs, who had been brought to church as foot warmers, ran for the door.

Did you know . . . . !

*Guinea pigs have 14 toes in total. They have four toes on their front feet and three toes on their back feet.
*Male honey bees are called Drones. They're bigger than worker bees and their only function is to mate with a queen bee.
*Animals that spend most of their lifetime in trees are called Arboreal animals. The word "arboreal" comes from the Latin word "arbor," which means "tree."
*The giant Pacific octopus has three hearts, nine brains and blue blood, making reality stranger than fiction.

Did you know ….!

The Beagle is the only breed to rank in the top 10 every year since its acceptance into the AKC registry in 1885. The Beagle was the 4th most popular dog in the U.S. in 2013. Another famous Beagle, Snoopy, is the only non-living dog to receive AKC registration, and was also crowned the king of canines in "AKC's Top 125 Dogs in Pop Culture" poll.

Louisiana Catahoula Leopard Dog

The Catahoula Cur is an American dog breed named after Catahoula Parish, in the state of Louisiana, in the United States. After becoming the state dog of Louisiana in 1979, its name was officially changed to Louisiana Catahoula Leopard Dog.

HOW TO TELL THE WEATHER

In order to tell the weather correctly you need to:

1. Go to your back door and look for the dog. If the dog is at the door and he is wet, It's probably raining.
2. But if the dog is standing there really soaking wet, it is probably raining really hard.
3. If the dog's fur looks like it's been rubbed the wrong way, it's probably windy.
4. If the dog has snow on his back, it's probably snowing.
5. Of course, to be able to tell the weather like this, you have to leave the dog outside all the time, especially if you expect bad weather.

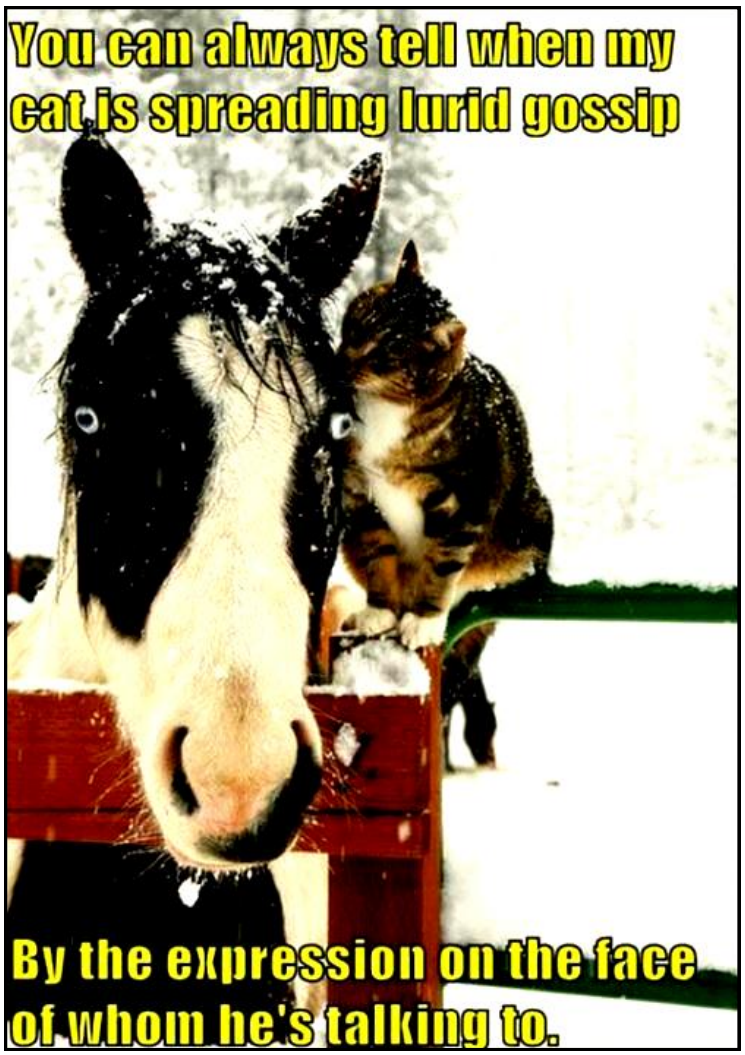
JANUARY HORSE TRIVIA



Horse Trivia

1. Horses have the largest eyes of any land mammal.
2. Horses can run within hours after birth.
3. When horses look like they're laughing, they're actually engaging in a special nose-enhancing technique known as "flehmen," to determine whether a smell is good or bad.
4. At one time people thought horses were colorblind. They're not, though they are better at seeing yellows and greens than purples and violets.
5. A horse's teeth take up a larger amount of space in their head than their brain.
6. Horse hooves are made from the same protein that comprises human hair and fingernails.
7. The horse trailer ("horse box") was invented by Lord George Bentinck, a U.K. man who needed a more effective transport for getting his six horses from one racetrack to another.
8. In 1872, Leland Stanford (1824-1893) made a bet that at some point in the gallop all four of a horse's legs are off the ground at the same time. Eadweard Muybridge (1830-1904) proved him right by using a series of 24 cameras and photographing a racehorse named Sallie Gardner.

SECRETARIAT

Secretariat is widely considered the most famous ever. Due to his unrivaled horse racing career, numerous equine awards and status in Hollywood, almost everyone knew of this horse.

When Secretariat became the first horse to win the Triple Crown in 25, the world sat up and took notice. He set a record-breaking victory in the Belmont Stakes race, winning by 31 lengths. Many consider his victory there to be one of the greatest races in history.

Born March 30, 1970, Secretariat set records that still stand today. During the Kentucky Derby, he accelerated with each quarter mile and crossed the finish line at 1:59 2/5, a new course record that still stands. Only one other horse in history has ever finished in under two minutes.

Named Horse of the Year twice, as well as being the first two-year-old to be voted Eclipse award as the horse of the year, by a unanimous vote. Secretariat was also a media superstar, the first horse to have a Hollywood agent to help manage his appearances. He was named one of ESPN's 100 Greatest Athletes of the Twentieth Century. He was featured on the covers of Time, Newsweek, and Sports Illustrated. Secretariat was also featured on a commemorative stamp. Secretariat even has his own famous film called Secretariat.

Eating in the 50s

1. Pasta was not eaten
2. Curry was a surname.
3. A takeaway was a mathematical problem.
4. A pizza was something to do with a leaning tower.
5. Crisps were plain; the only choice we had was whether to put the salt on or not.
6. Rice was only eaten as a milk pudding.
7. A Big Mac was what we wore when it was raining.
8. Brown bread was something only poor people ate.
9. Oil was for lubricating, fat was for cooking.
10. Tea was made in a teapot using tea leaves and never green.
11. Sugar enjoyed a good press in those days, and was regarded as being white gold. Cubed sugar was regarded as posh.
12. Fish didn't have fingers.
13. Eating raw fish was called poverty, not sushi.
14. None of us had ever heard of yoghurt.
15. Healthy food consisted of anything edible.
16. People who didn't peel potatoes were regarded as lazy.
17. Indian restaurants were only found in India.
18. Cooking outside was called camping.
19. Seaweed was not a recognised food.
20. "Kebab" was not even a word, never mind a food.
21. Prunes were medicinal.
22. Surprisingly, muesli was readily available, it was called cattle feed.
23. Water came out of the tap. If someone had suggested bottling it and charging more than petrol for it, they would have become a laughing stock!
24. And the things that we never ever had on our table in the 50s and 60s: elbows or phones!

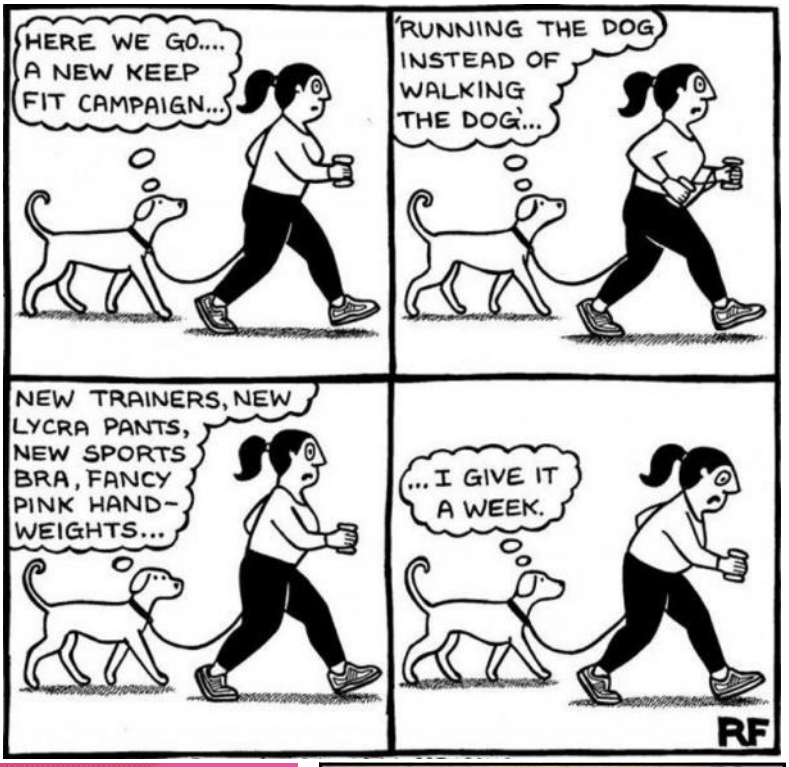
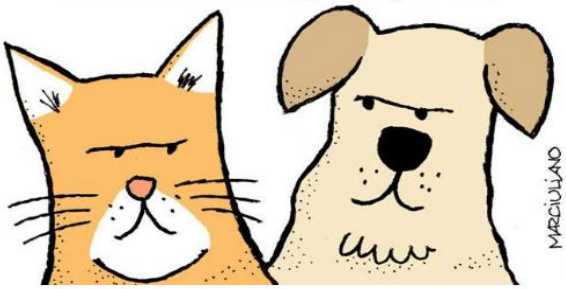
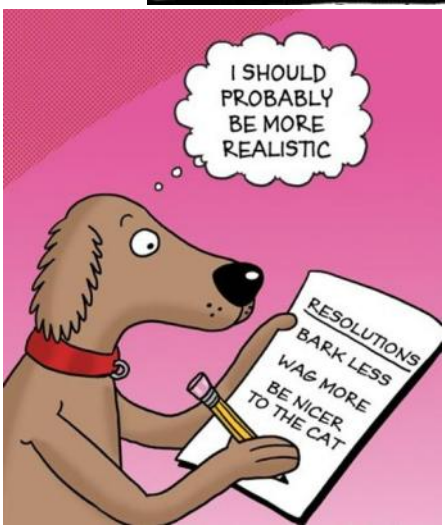
FUNNY MEMES



My New Year's resolution is to promote harmony with all and peace on Earth until like a cat and dog cautiously living together under one roof I realize someone has been stealing my food, hiding my toys, sitting on my part of the couch or clawing at my nose.



My New Years Resolution LOL



What do you say to someone when you see them after after the ball drops on New Year's?

I haven't seen you since last year!

Why shouldn't you go jogging on New Years Eve?

The ice falls out of your punch.

What do comedians spend alot of time doing on New Years Eve?

Waiting for a punchline.

What does a Ghost say on January 1st?

Happy BOO year!

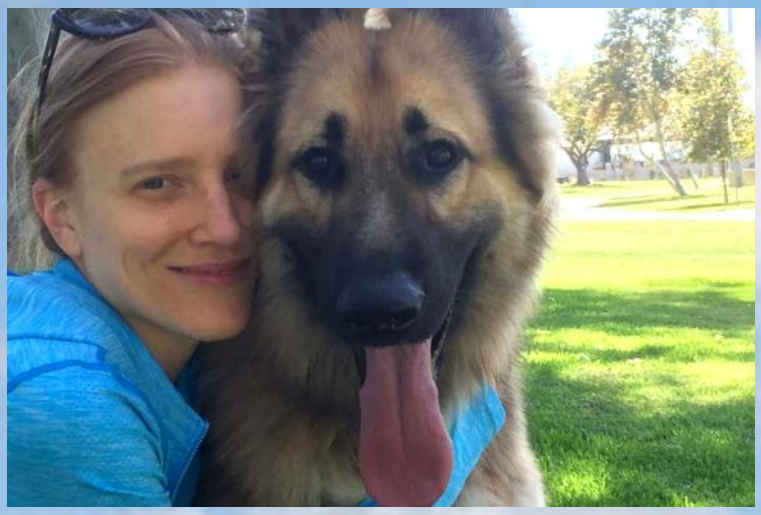
Communicating with your Pets

Hi fellow animal Lovers! My name is Martha Malone and I am not only an animal Lover, but also an animal communicator. I have always connected differently with animals, understood them differently, and bonded differently with them than other people I knew- this is especially true for mine! Perhaps you're asking yourself, "What is an animal communicator"?



So, let me explain what it is I do. I empathically connect with animals and telepathically communicate with them using energy. I do this from my heart and the communication is between my Soul and the animal's Soul.

My professional communication services are done remotely. I am not licensed in the veterinary field in any way and cannot do things that only those licensed in the veterinary field can do. However, I can help with many areas involving animals, including helping veterinarians find out information from the animals that might help them when giving care to the animals: behavioral, fear, aggression, biting, litter box issues, inappropriate barking, and so much more - it's almost endless! I offer Energetic Healing as well. This has potential to help with pain/physical health issues. Energetic Healing can also help emotionally and potentially with behavioral issues. I also work with behavioral issues themselves. Everything is energy and at times a particular issue is related to another issue - sometimes a deeper issue.

I would like to take this opportunity to mention a couple of programs I offer. One is my Find Your Perfect Match program. If a person is wanting to adopt or buy a cat or dog and has a particular one in mind I can help determine if the cat or dog and the person are the right fit. Are you curious about how I do this ? Are you feeling you would like my help in getting in touch with your kitty or doggy? Would you like to know about my Hopes for animals from my program? Get in touch with me to learn more or to schedule a session!

My other program is called Let Your Pet Rate Your Date. This is where if a person is dating someone, I can connect with the person's animal(s) and find out what the animal(s) think of the boyfriend or girlfriend. Animals are very sensitive to the energy of humans and can tell if the person is good or not and if the person has bad intentions. This can really be helpful for people when dating someone. If you would like to learn more about this program or schedule a session, get in touch with me at the contact information included!

I communicate with all species anywhere - distance is not a factor. I communicate with animals in Spirit, too.

My most recent success story is with two cats who had a new litter box in a new location and were not using it there. I connected with the cats and found out from them why they were not using it. They told me what they wanted in order for them to use the new litter box in the new location. I told the human what they wanted and the person agreed to it. What was agreed on was done. The next morning the cats used the new litter box in the new location!
