When Mary Queen of Scots was executed in 1587, one of her small dogs was found to have been hiding in the folds of her long gown. The little dog had to be taken away because he wouldn't leave his mistress's body.

What's the fastest a Cheetah can run?

Cheetahs, of course, are built to run faster than humans, regularly clocking speeds of up to around 60 miles per hour (96.5 kilometers per hour). During a photo shoot with National Geographic Magazine, a cheetah from the Cincinnati Zoo named Sarah covered 100 meters and clocked a peak speed of 61 mph (98 kph).

Why does my dog hide its bones?

In the world of early canines, food was often hard to come by. If a dog was lucky enough to find something to eat, he had to compete with other dogs in his pack—not to mention other animals—to keep his spoils. So dogs would bury bones and carcasses near their den. This hoarding was also helpful if the hunting was exceptionally good and there was more than enough food to devour at any one time. If food became scarce again, the dogs would just dig up their old kill and enjoy a meal.

FUN TRIVIA

- *Way back when, Burmese cats were reputed to have had their own servants. Once owned by Burmese aristocracy and priests, the Burmese cats were so highly valued that it was illegal to sell them.
- *While Basset Hounds can swim, they are not very good at it. Since they carry two-thirds of their weight in front and have short legs, swimming is not a natural sport for them.
- *There's a doggy disco held in Italy every year where owners can dance with their dogs.
- *Dogs can be trained to detect epileptic seizures.
- *The monarch butterfly's sense of taste is 12,000 times more sensitive than a humans.
- *Up until the late 1800's, Collies were known as Scottish Sheepdogs.
- *A Tortoise given to the English Royal Family by Captain Cook in 1777, died in 1965!
- *Seagulls can drink saltwater, since they have special glands which filter out the salt.
- *Cats have better memories than dogs. Tests conducted by the University of Michigan concluded that while a dog's memory lasts no more than 5 minutes, a cat's can last as long as 16 hours .

Did you know . . . !

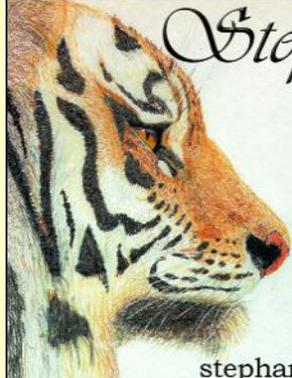

The first dogs to hunt in packs and the first small companion breeds were probably bred in ancient China. Written records more than 4,000 years old from China show that dog trainers were held in very high esteem and that kennel masters raised and looked after large numbers of dogs.

PAW-SCOPES

DOGS

August brings fun outings to the beach or lazing by the pool in the shade. Play-dates for pups should be early in the mornings or late afternoon or evening when it's a little cooler, but don't forget to have lots of fresh cool water around and to keep their little paws off hot surfaces.

CATS

Finding a dark, cool closet or hiding under furniture is a cat's haven during the summer months. They will come out later in the afternoon or evening and will enjoy your company after they've feasted on their favorite treats! Remember to keep plenty of fresh water to hand, as they need to stay hydrated.

PET JOKES

Mixed Breeds

In a dog park in a very chic Manhattan neighborhood, three dogs get together to chat, and the subject of what breed they are comes up.

The first dog says, "well, my mother was a cocker spaniel and my father was a poodle, so I'm a Cockapoo. We're very trendy."

The second dog puts his nose in the air and says, "Well, that's nice. Personally, my father was a purebred pug and my mother was an award-winning beagle, making me a Puggle. We're the latest thing in L.A."

The third dog looks very uncomfortable and starts trying to change the subject. "Come on, just tell us," the other dogs keep saying. So finally, he gives in. "Well, my father was a Bull Terrier and my mother was a Shih Tzu...", which makes me a Terri-ma-Tzu (tir·a·mi·su)

"What, you thought differently"? Well, we all know what that is!

Did you know . . . !

During this year's Oscars, John Travolta adopted the dog known as "Mac N Cheese" which Jamie Lee Curtis brought out during Betty White's 2022 Oscars 'In Memoriam'. Rescuing animals was a cause that was very important to the late comedian. Mac N Cheese was up for adoption through Paw Works.

Did you know . . . !

Despite its reputation for being finicky, the average cat consumes about 127,750 calories a year, nearly 28 times its own weight in food and the same amount again in liquids. In case you were wondering, cats cannot survive on a vegetarian diet.

Did you know . . . !

*When a rabbit is happy it will sometimes jump in the air & twist it's body. This is called a binky.

*Dachshund literally means 'Badger Dog' – They were originally bred to hunt and fight badgers in their burrows.

*The red panda uses its long bushy tail not only for balance, but also as a blanket during chilly winter nights.

HOW TO WALK A HUMAN

A Dogs Guide

Humans need exercise. If they don't get it they become "chubby". It's up to you to save them.

1. Allow your human to tether themselves to you. This keeps them from wandering off or running away.
2. Your human probably needs breaks. Be considerate and stop and sniff often.
3. Bark frequently. Humans have a short attention span.
4. When you go to the bathroom, walk away. If you have trained your human correctly, they will pick it up. Good aerobics.
5. Periodically drag your human as fast as you can. This is called interval training.
6. Do not allow your human to shorten the walk. They are being lazy. Sit in protest if you must.
7. Once you are home, allow your human to remove their tether, then lick their face many times. This is positive reinforcement for a job well done.

AUGUST HORSE TRIVIA

Saffyre Sanctuary, Inc.

#3 Chollima

Chollima is a powerful winged horse that comes from Korean mythology. The Chollima could travel far distances at swift speeds, with the capability to cover thousands of miles a day.

It was said Chollima was too swift to be ridden by any mortals, with no man ever being able to tame him.

HORSE TRIVIA

How can you tell if a horse is dreaming? While it has not been proven that horses dream during REM sleep, any horse owner who has seen a horse's ears swiveling back and forth or legs kicking out in sleep will tell you that they're definitely thinking about something.

The horse trailer ("horse box") was invented by Lord George Bentinck, a U.K. man who needed a more effective transport for getting his prize horse "Elis" from one racetrack to another.

A nineteenth-century horse named 'Old Billy' reportedly lived 62 years (1760-1822) in England. His exact breed is not known, although he was most likely a Shire-type horse with a brown coat and a white blaze. Curiously, his head was preserved and is currently on display at the Cecil Higgins Art Gallery and Bedford Museums in Manchester, UK.

There were no horses in Australia until 1788, when they arrived with the first Western settlers, and were used for farming and utility work. Only the strongest and fittest horses survived the hard sea journey over from Europe and Australian horses still maintain a reputation for being amongst the hardest equines in the world.

Taking Your Dog To The Beach Rules and Etiquette You Should Follow

Do you have plans to go to the beach with your dog this summer? Not all beaches allow dogs – partly because some dog owners have disregarded public laws in the past and made it difficult for the rest of us that do follow the rules. When you do find dog-friendly beaches, it's even more important than ever to exhibit good K9 Etiquette!

Check In Advance

Prior to arriving at your beach destination, with your dog in tow, check with the city, municipality or state park to determine if your pet is allowed on the beach. During peak tourist season, typically May-September, there is a greater likelihood that dogs will not be welcome on the beach or may be subjected to restricted hours (so check with your local beach listings first).

Comply with Leash Laws at Dog Friendly Beaches

Allowing your dog to roam free on the beach can be dangerous to both your pet and other occupants. By keeping your pet on a leash at all times, you ensure that your pet is under control, out of harms way, unable to bother other beach goers or have an altercation with another dog.

In many cases, leash laws can regulate the lengths of leashes to 6 or 8 feet. In that case, your pet may not be able to run at the end of a retractable. Be aware of all leash laws as most are coupled with a monetary fine for those choosing to disregard this common sense, and common courtesy, rule.

Pack Prepared

Your dog has needs at the beach just as they do at home. To ensure your dog has as great a time as you do, pack:

- * extra water
- * plastic reusable water bowl
- * clean up bags and/or pooper scooper
- * life vest or preserver
- * first aid kit
- * waterproof leash and collar,

Rules and Etiquette You Should Follow

Training for Good Measure

Teach your pet to recall, or to come on command so that you can have verbal control over if and when he is off-leash.

Taking Care of the Environment

Environmentalists, state and local agencies are concerned with the preservation of wildlife that nests and plants that are grown on the coastal shore. Be sure your dog does not disturb nests or destroy area wildlife in their quest for enjoyment.

Please Pick-Up after Your Pet

Dog waste on the beach can ruin any beach lover's day. One of the main reasons pets have been prohibited at the beach is because of the waste their owners choose to leave behind, polluting the sand and surf. Be respectful of the beach and its patrons, pick up and dispose of all dog waste in appropriate receptacles. This does not necessarily include the garbage cans of a homeowner that lives on the shoreline. Use public access waste facilities or take dog waste with you for disposal.

Quick Rinse

Being itchy and irritated isn't fun for anyone, this includes your pet. After a day at the beach rinse your pooch off with water at a convenient beachside shower to remove sand, salt and small beach bugs. This will keep your dog comfortable for the rest of the day, along with keeping your car/home almost sand-free!
