The first U.S. company to use Santa Claus in advertising was White Rock Water in 1915, which included Santa in an advertisement for the first time, depicting him with a sleigh full of toys and White Rock water bottles. But Coca-Cola was the first company to create a cohesive and enduring marketing campaign featuring Santa Claus, starting with a department store in 1930 and then popularizing the modern image of Santa with artist Haddon Sundblom in 1931.

June 26, 1870 was when Christmas became a Federal holiday. At first, Christmas was only applicable to Federal employees in the District of Columbia. It wasn't until 1885 that Congress extended the Christmas holiday to the Federal employees outside the DC area.

Victorian Postmen

In Victorian times, the British postmen wore red-breasted coats resembling the much-loved British bird, the robin red-breast, earning these postmen the nickname: Robins. Around Christmas time, people would eagerly await the Robins' delivery of Christmas cards from near and far, and still do to this day!

HOLIDAY TRIVIA

- *During the Christmas holiday season, more than 1.76 billion candy canes will be made.
- *A dog's New Year's Resolution: "I will not chase that stick unless I actually see it leave your hand."
- *In many Scandinavian countries they build a Christmas Goat in the center of the town. The Christmas goat is often called the Yule goat.
- *The Statue of Liberty was a Christmas gift to the United States from France in 1886.
- *Tinsel was invented in 1610 in Germany and was once made of real silver.
- *The official U.S. Capitol Christmas Tree for 2025 is a 53-foot red fir from Nevada's Humboldt-Toiyabe National Forest, named "Silver Belle". This marks the first time Nevada has been chosen to provide the tree.
- *Electric Christmas tree lights were first used in 1895. The idea for using electric Christmas lights came from an American, Ralph E. Morris. The new lights proved safer than the traditional candles.
- *Charles Dickens "A Christmas Carol" was first published on Dec 17th, 1843.
- *The Nutcracker phenomenon started as a story by E.T.A. Hoffmann in 1816.
- *Holly, Mistletoe, and Poinsettia plants are poisonous to dogs and cats. If you normally use these plants to decorate your home, they should be kept in an area where your pet cannot reach.

Pampered Feeding

When my daughter and I caught only one perch on our fishing trip—not enough for even a modest lunch - so we decided to feed it to her two cats. She put our catch in their dish and watched as the two pampered pets sniffed at the fish but refused to eat it. Thinking quickly, my daughter then picked up the dish, walked over to the electric can opener, ran it for a few seconds, then put the fish back down. The cats dug right in!

PAW-SCOPES

Dogs:

What could be waiting for you under that tree? There are countless presents with your name on it. Santa thinks you've definitely made the "nice" list. Play with your new ball, don your sparkly new collar, and treat yourself to a savory feast. Everyone will love you!

Cats:

Purr your heart out this holiday season, you're feeling incredibly sociable - more so than usual. This month, you better embrace this newly found courage, crawl out from under that bed and mingle with the rest of the family. Plentiful affections will be forthcoming.

CHRISTMAS TRIVIA

*St. Nicholas was bishop of the Turkish town of Myra in the early fourth century. It was the Dutch who first made him into a Christmas gift-giver, and Dutch settlers brought him to America where his name eventually became the familiar Santa Claus.

*In Britain, eating mince pies at Christmastime dates back to the 16th century. It is still believed that to eat a mince pie on each of the Twelve Days of Christmas will bring 12 happy months in the year to follow.

*Hallmark introduced its first Christmas cards in 1915, five years after the founding of the company.

*The first Christmas cards created in England were commissioned by Sir Henry Cole and illustrated by John Callcott Horsley in London on 1st May 1843.

*The first Christmas Day message by a British Monarch was in 1932, when King George V broadcast live from Sandringham. In the speech, which was written by Rudyard Kipling, the King celebrated the power of the wireless to unite all the people of the Empire, and wished them a Happy Christmas.

The Grandmother

Just before Hanukkah, Miriam, a grandmother, was giving directions to her grown-up grandson who was coming to visit with his wife. 'You come to the front door of the condominium complex. I am in apartment 2B.' Miriam continued, 'There is a big panel at the door. With your elbow push button 2B. I will buzz you in. Come inside, the elevator is on the right. Get in, and with your elbow hit #2. When you get out I am on the left. With your elbow, hit my doorbell.' 'Grandma, that sounds real easy,' replied Samuel, the grandson, 'but why am I hitting all these buttons with my elbow?' To which she replied: 'You're coming to visit me empty handed?'

Did you know . . . !

Legend has it that in 1670, the cane shaped candy became historical when a choirmaster at the Cologne Cathedral in Germany bent the sugar-sticks into canes to appear as shepherd's hooks. The all-white candy canes were given out to children who attended the ceremonies.

Candy can also be traced back as far as 2000 BC to ancient Egypt and it could be said that Egyptians were the first people who made candy. It was also used in ceremonies for worshipping their gods and goddesses. The Egyptians used honey to make candy by adding figs, nuts, dates and spices.

Christmas with Cinnamon

The smell of cinnamon at this time of year means Christmas cookies are in the oven. If there's one spice that nearly everyone has in their kitchen it's cinnamon. Cinnamon, from the bark of a tree, is one of the oldest known spices. Arab traders brought it from China in 1700 B.C. Its sweet, warm flavor makes it one of the most important baking spices of the holidays. And a definite 'comfort food' aroma!

Did you know . . . !

*Approximately 70% of people sign their pet's name on greeting cards and 58% include their pets in family and holiday pictures/cards.

*The Tibetan Mastiff holds the record for the most expensive dog ever sold. A red Tibetan Mastiff puppy was purchased in China for $2 MILLION in 2014.

Did you know

As early as 1822, the postmaster in Washington, D.C. was worried by the amount of extra mail at Christmas time. His preferred solution to the problem was to limit by law the number of cards a person could send. Even though commercial cards were not available at that time, people were already sending so many home-made cards that sixteen extra postmen had to be hired in the city.

- *Two fish in a tank, one says to the other - you drive, I'll man the guns.
- *Two Aerials meet on a roof - fall in love - get married.
The ceremony was rubbish but the reception was brilliant.
- *I went to buy some camouflage trousers the other day but I couldn't find any.
- *D'you know, somebody actually complimented me on my driving today. They left a little note on the windshield, it said "Parking Fine." So that was nice!
- *A man walked into the doctor's, he said 'I've hurt my arm in several places'. The doctor said 'well don't go there any more'.

Way Back When
Christmas Tree Fashion

In the year of 1850, Christmas trees started to be sold commercially in the United States. This started because images of the royal family of England with their Christmas tree were printed in English magazines in 1848. England had restored the celebration of Christmas in 1660 after one hundred years of reformation and Puritan restraint. This same print was then copied in the United States in 1850 because Queen Victoria was always copied for her fashion sense even in American society.

Did you know

The robin redbreast bird has been appearing on our Christmas cards since the practice of sending cards began in the mid-Nineteenth Century. In those days postmen wore red coats and were nicknamed 'Robins' or 'Redbreasts' so this jolly-looking bird became forever synonymous with festive greetings.

European Robin redbreasts live in various habitats, including forests, farmlands, and urban areas, often preferring open lawns with nearby trees for nesting. Their diet consists mainly of earthworms and insects in the morning, supplemented with fruits and berries in the afternoon and evening. They also eat other small invertebrates and sometimes even small amphibians, fish, or shellfish.

Holiday Safety Tips for Your Best Friend:

- * Secure the tree to prevent tipping.
- * Avoid breakable ornaments or place them higher up.
- * Keep toxic plants like poinsettias and mistletoe out of reach.
- * Hide electrical cords to prevent chewing.
- * Skip tinsel and ribbons to avoid choking or blockages.
- * Watch out for toxic foods like chocolate, alcohol, and bones.
- * Use battery candles instead of open flames or keep out of reach

These simple steps can help keep your pets safe and happy this holiday season!

Did you know . . . !

*The iconic Christmas tree has a lot of roots (forgive the pun). Ancient Egyptians used to mark the winter solstice by decorating their homes with green palms, while the Romans celebrated Saturnalia with evergreen boughs. These green plants signified that the spring would return with new life. The first Christmas trees as we know them today started in Germany in the 16th century.

*The original Santa Claus was actually St. Nicholas, a Christian bishop in the 4th century. He didn't wear the red suit that's so famous today, but he did give all of his inheritance to the poor and needy. In Holland, his name is Sinter Klaas, which later morphed into Santa Claus.

*Eggnog originated in medieval Britain as a medieval posset, a warm, milky drink with ale or wine and spices. It became more accessible in the American colonies, where rum was commonly used instead of more expensive sherry. Over time, it evolved into a holiday staple, with regional variations and a potent history that includes being served by George Washington and causing the West Point Eggnog Riot of 1826.

*During World War II, the United States Playing Card Company joined forces with American and British intelligence agencies to create a very special deck of cards. They distributed them as Christmas gifts to soldiers, but they also helped Allied prisoners of war escape from German POW camps. When wet, individual cards peeled apart to reveal maps of escape routes.

Horse Trivia

- *A horse can see better at night than a human. However, it takes a horse's eyes longer to adjust from light to dark and from dark to light than a human's.
- *A horse is an ungulate, which means it is a mammal with hooves. Horses have one hoof at the end of each leg, which makes them odd-toed ungulates. Cattle have two hooves at the end of each leg, which makes them even-toed ungulates.
- *Adult horses have teeth that are several inches long. Most of the tooth cannot be seen because it is below the gum line. Little by little the teeth erupt through the gum to replace the surface of the teeth as they are worn down.

The Night Before Christmas

*T'was the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.
The Stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
in the hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there.*

*The puppies were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of meaty bones danced in their heads.
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
They sprang from their beds to see what was the matter.*

*Away to the window they flew like a flash,
Barking and yapping, on guard with a crash.
With ears raised alert and noses in the air,
They just couldn't wait to see what was there.*

*Stars and moon shining bright on the new-fallen snow,
Lit up for their amazement what was below.
A gold and red sleigh with Santa to fly,
Pulled not by reindeer - instead dogs - Oh My!*

*Gliding through the air and moving with such pace,
Santa gave a shout with a smile on his face.
What was to come next surprised even I,
As the sleigh suddenly reared and shot up to the sky.*

*And then in an instant, they heard from above,
The unmistakable sound of paws landing with a thud.
With a bang and a crash, he appears so quick,
Soot on his head - it was good old St. Nick!*

*His eyes - how they twinkled! His dimples so merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
With tails a'wagging the excitement grew and grew,
What gifts had he brought for these lucky few?*

*He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
Filling each little stocking, and turning with a jerk,
With a tiny wry smile and a top to his nose,
He gave a quick nod and up the chimney he rose!*

*He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle.
But I heard him exclaim, 'ere he drove out of sight . . .*

*Merry Christmas to all,
And to all a good-night!*
