Yawning is contagious even for dogs. Research shows that the sound of a human yawn can trigger one from your dog. And it's four times as likely to happen when it's the yawn of a person your pet knows. And yes, yawns can be contagious to cats too, but it's less common and weaker than in dogs.

Did you know . . . !

The first recorded parade honoring the feast day of St. Patrick took place on March 17, 1601, in St. Augustine, (Spanish Florida) and now known as Florida. Organized by the Spanish colony's Irish vicar, Ricardo Artur, this event predates the widely cited 1762 NYC parade, which was held by Irish soldiers serving in the British army.

SV-MPK - MARCH 2026

Brief History of Service Dogs

Service dogs have a long history, with evidence of dogs assisting the visually impaired dating back to Ancient Rome and medieval China. The modern era of service dogs began after World War I to assist blinded veterans, leading to the first formal guide dog schools in Germany (1916) and the U.S. (1929). Since the 1970s, their roles expanded to include mobility and medical assistance.

FUN TRIVIA

*A 5-year-old Giant Schnauzer named "Monty" won Best in Show at the 149th Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show in 2025. Handled by co-owner Katie Bernardin, this victory marked the first time a Giant Schnauzer has won the top prize in the show's history.

*Hamsters cannot swim and therefore do not need baths - they clean themselves without any difficulty.

*The Dalmatian dog is named for the Dalmatian Coast of Croatia, where it is believed to have been originally bred.

*Irishman Thomas Fitzpatrick successfully led the first wagon train across the prairies to California.

*The famous DeLorean car was built in Dunmurry, Northern Ireland. It was also featured in the movie trilogy 'Back to the Future' starring Michael J Fox and Christopher Lloyd.

*The Canary Islands were not named for a bird called a canary. They were named after a breed of large dogs. The Latin name was Canariae insulae - "Island of Dogs."

*The hummingbird, the loon, the swift, the kingfisher, and the grebe are all birds that cannot walk.

*Dogs' noses can sense heat and thermal radiation, which explains why blind or deaf dogs can still hunt.

Pet Safety Tips

MARCH 17th, 2026

Be(er) Careful

Alcohol is toxic to pets and should never be left unsupervised. It can cause immediate physical symptoms and lead to potential kidney damage.

Irish Goodbye

Keep your pet on a leash or in an enclosed area during parties to ensure they don't get spooked and run away

Kilt- astrophe

Animals can become overheated when wearing costumes. If your pet is dressing up, then be on the lookout for signs your pet is too warm or may be uncomfortable.

Party Animal

Make sure your pet has a safe refuge they can go to escape the noise and chaos if you are hosting the celebration

Wear Green

If your pet insists on celebrating the day with some green, ensure that any dyes or coloring are pet-safe and won't affect sensitive skin or be harmful if ingested.

Erin Go NO

Avoid giving treats from the table, instead provide your pet with their own safe snack away from potential dangers.

Happy St. Patrick's Day

Irish Wolfhound - Origin and History

The Irish Wolfhound is one of the oldest recorded breed's of dogs. Records of the existence of Irish Wolfhounds go back to the 1st century in Ireland where they were bred for war. The Irish initially named these dogs Cu Faoil, or the Irish Wolfdogge. These large shaggy haired dogs were often used by farmers to protect their livestock and guard their homes.

Historically, Irish Wolfhounds have been seen as something of an enigma. Frequently references to these dogs have been found in books of historical saga's and romances, in the western world giving these dogs almost mythical properties and qualities.

Factual information of the Irish Wolfhound through historical documents shows that although never officially adopted as the Nation's breed the Irish do regard the Wolfhound as their official dog. In early Irish times, Wolfhounds were used to hunt boar and deer to provide much needed food.

They were also used to capture and kill predators like the coyote and now extinct Irish wolf from where it gets its name. In Roman times, these dogs were often so feared that they were transported like lion's in cages and used for entertainment blood sports by the Romans.

During the early historical conflicts in England , Wolfhounds were trained for war and their job was to catch armoured knights on horseback, and separate them from their horse. Once dragged to the ground, these knights, if not killed from the fall were killed by the Irish Wolfhounds, who were historically believed to kill their victims by breaking their spines.

Physically an Irish Wolfhound is a large animal weighing about minimum one hundred and fifty pounds for the males, and approximately one hundred and twenty pounds for the female. The male Wolfhound grows to an approximate three feet in height, and on going arguments between breeders, as to whether the Wolfhound should be classified as the World's largest dog, still exist.

A Wolfhound has a long slender body, with a rather square shaped head. Most commonly Wolfhounds are whitish in colour with touches of grey but may also be red, black, brown or tan colours. The most defining attributes of the Wolfhound are their amazing eyesight and strong necks, both of which were needed in days of conflict.

After the conflicts in England ceased, Irish Wolfhounds became known as the dog of royalty and were transported around the world to be the guardian dog's of Kings and Queen's. In fact the Irish Guard, the Queen's own army still uses Irish Wolfhounds in special civic ceremonies. These even tempered dogs have served both royalty and soldiers well for many centuries.

In the mid nineteenth century when the Wolfhound had all but disappeared from regular civilian life, a gentleman named Captain Graham sought to reintroduce us to these spectacular dogs. Of course in seeking to save this breed, Captain Graham did alter the genetics of the traditional Irish Wolfhound. The most noticeable difference of the modern day Irish Wolfhound are the variety of colours that now exist. This is believed to be a result of Captain Graham rebreeding the dog with the Great Dane, Deerhound and the Borzoi amongst others.

Traditionally a rather aggressive but loyal dog, this more modern species of Irish Wolfhound are more noted for their calm even temperament.

The Irish motto for the Wolfhound is as follows, "Gentle when stroked. Fierce when provoked".

The Irish Setter

Bred from a mix of Irish Water Spaniel, Irish Terrier, English Setter, Spaniel, Pointer, and the Gordon Setter, this dashing beauty became popular with the Irish and British Aristocracy in the 18th century. An intrepid hunting dog, the Irish setter was admired for his stylish red coat, strength and stealth movements and distinctly clownish personality.

The Glen of Imaal Terrier

Like many of his working Terrier kin, the Glen of Imaal Terrier was initially bred to rid homes and farms of vermin, badger, and fox. However, this rough and rugged little guy also had the unique culinary task of helping the cook by acting as a turnspit dog. Designed to paddle on a large wheel, the Glen of Imaal would rotate the turnspit by walking and turn the spit over the hearth, thus creating a canine propelled rotisserie.

Irish Water Spaniel

Considered by many to be the comedian of the spaniel family, the Irish Water Spaniel has a twinkle in his eye that reflects his breeds noted intelligence. Possessing a curly, water repellent double coat and rat-like tail, the Irish Water Terrier can be traced as far back as the 7th and 8th centuries.

Irish Wolfhound

The old Irish proverb, "Gentle when stroked, but fierce when provoked," best describes the loyal and athletic Irish Wolfhound. The tallest of all breeds, the Irish Wolfhound can be dated as far back as 391 A.D. Often given as a gift from one Lord to another, the Irish Wolfhound fulfilled many purposes including guarding the castle, hunting, and fighting beside his master in battle, in addition to being a gentle and loving family pet.

Collect

Terms indicated in an Irish policy: "The total sum will be paid to you in one single figure at the time of your death, and must be applied for by post unless you wish to collect it yourself."

Highest bidder

The Irish auctioneer shouted, "The highest bidder will be deemed to be the person or persons nominated as the buyer or buyers unless someone else offers more..."

Can't diagnose

"Well, Mike," said the doctor. "I can't quite diagnose your case. I think it must be the drink."

"Sure, that's all right, doctor," said Mike.

"I know how you feel. I'll come back when you're sober."

Paddy's vest

"Have you seen my vest?" Paddy asked his wife. "Sure and you have the thing on, you old fool," said his wife. "Just as well you noticed," said Paddy, "or I would have gone out without it."

Stretch Tights

Shamus joined a robber band and on the night of his first safe-cracking job the boss warned him, "Before we go through the window, you pull your pantihose right over your face." Shamus said, "Sure and you can see that the daft things will only stretch as high as me neck!"

HORSE TRIVIA

*The record for the highest jump made by a horse is held by a horse named Huaso who jumped 8 feet, 1 and 1/4 inches on February 5th, 1949 in Vina del Mar, Chile. He was ridden by Captain Alberto Larraguibel.

*The record for the longest jump over water is held by a horse named "Something", who jumped 27 feet, 6 and 3/4 inches on April 25, 1975 in Johannesburg, South Africa. He was ridden by Andre Ferreira.

*A mule is a cross between a male donkey (called a jack) and a female horse (called a mare). Mules are usually sterile.

*A hinny is a cross between a male horse (called a stallion) and a female donkey (called a jenny). Hinnies are usually sterile.

*A horse's age can usually be accurately determined by its teeth until the horse is about 9 years old. After that, a horse is known as "smooth mouthed" or "aged" and it becomes far more difficult or impossible to tell its age by its teeth.

What sets OBOL apart from other animal welfare organizations?

We rescue the rescuers

We deliver immediate, item-specific relief the moment a rescue, shelter, or partner organization calls. Our approach eliminates delays that can cost lives, ensuring support reaches animals exactly when and where it is needed most.

We help pet owners

Our struggling pet owners relief program offers a helping hand to the homeless, veterans, seniors, disabled, and low-income families.

OBOL is on-call for emergency relief

When natural disasters like earthquakes, fires, and floods strike, we are there to support.

We provide animal humane education (PRE K-12)

Our Humane Education Learning Program (HELP) is one of the few programs in California teaching children how to love animals and be a responsible pet owner. Humane Education is a California state educational requirement (51540 Sec 233-233.5)

IRISH DOG STORIES

Heartwarming Irish dog stories often revolve around loyalty, rescue, and the deep connection between people and their pups. Examples include a shy Irish wolfhound finding love in a new home, a brave dog saving a lost child in the woods, and an Irish entrepreneur saving stray dogs in Thailand. These tales highlight the joyful, caring nature of dogs.

- The Second Chance Irish Wolfhound: A massive, gentle Irish Wolfhound pup was adopted, initially timid and heartbroken, but soon transformed through love, becoming a loyal companion who "saved" his new owner just as much as he was saved.
- The Heroic Irish Setter/Mix: A loyal dog named Buddy in an Irish town became a local hero after tracking down a lost young girl, Lily, in a dense, stormy forest, proving his immense courage and love for his community.
- Niall Harbison's Mission: An Irish entrepreneur moved to Thailand and dedicated his life to feeding and caring for thousands of stray dogs, giving them a second chance at happiness and a safe, loving life.
- Pub Dog of Galway: A friendly, local Irish dog wandered into a Galway pub, bringing smiles and joy to everyone there by mingling with patrons for a few moments before happily trotting back out into the night.
- A "Soul Dog" Story: Stories exist of dogs, particularly Irish Terriers, who bring immense happiness to their owners, with tales describing them as bringing "joy, laughs, and lots of love" and being "the best dog in the whole wide world".

These stories reflect a deep, enduring, and loving bond with dogs across Ireland, often featuring them as beloved, loyal family members.
